

CAPT. LAMB ORATOR MEMORIAL DAY

Observed at Front Royal Under Auspices of Warren Memorial Association.

CROSSES OF HONOR AWARDED

The Day Fittingly Observed Also at Warrenton—Miss Mary Lee a Participant.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) FRONT ROYAL, VA., June 2.—Memorial Day was observed under the auspices of the Warren Memorial Association to-day, with one of the largest crowds in attendance of late years.

Company D, Seventy-second Regiment, Virginia Volunteers, Infantry, Captain G. A. Leach, commanding, headed the procession, followed by the Page Riflemen, of Luray, Va. Opening prayer was made by Rev. DeWitt Berry, address made by Mr. J. T. Petty, of Washington, D. C. Judge Giles Cook introduced the speaker. After the services in the cemetery, Captain John Lamb, of Richmond, Va., presented to the veterans the crosses of honor by Warren Rifles Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Congressman James Hay introduced the orator. The militia was under charge of Colonel Robert Leely, Lieutenant-Colonel Rafe Millar, of the Seventy-second Regiment, Virginia Volunteers.

SWANSON ORATOR.

Splendid Parade and Elaborate Ceremonies at Culpeper.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) CULPEPER, VA., June 2.—To-day was red-letter day in Confederate memorial annals. In Culpeper, and a great crowd turned out to pay tribute to the Southern hero dead. The exercises were in charge of the ladies of the Culpeper Memorial Association, whose prime duty it is yearly to keep watch and ward over the memory of their sacred Virginia dead.

At 10 o'clock the procession formed in and near the spacious yard of historic old St. Stephen's church, headed by the famous Culpeper Minute-men of American Revolutionary fame under the command of Capt. Edwin Slaughter. Then came the large camp of A. P. Hill, Confederate Veterans, in carriages and on foot, followed by wagons filled with rare flowers.

On arriving at Fairview Cemetery, the minute men and old Confederate veterans were drawn up around the green mound on the highest point of which the beautiful monument to the Confederate dead rises.

Governor Swanson was introduced, at the request of the memorial Association by Mayor Bell, to deliver the annual memorial address. After speaking at large of the heroic and patriotic deeds of the Southern soldiers in fighting for that which he deemed true patriotism, he paid striking tribute to both Lee and Jackson as being the greatest type of American genius for war.

In closing he spoke of our reunited country, of the great prosperity of it as a whole, and in glowing periods told how there still arose above war, peace or prosperity, the shining star of duty, the formation of sterling character. The Governor early captured his audience, and his address was often interrupted by salutes of applause.

AT LEXINGTON.

The Attendance the Largest in Many Years.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) LEXINGTON, VA., June 2.—Confederate Memorial Day was observed in Lexington to-day. The formal exercises were held at 11 o'clock in the Lee Memorial Church at Washington and Lee. Capt. J. C. Buchanan, of Lexington, Va. Confederate veterans were introduced by a special choir. The exercises of honor were presented by the Daughters of the Confederacy. In Master Pendleton, of Lexington, making the presentation speech.

The exercises were presided over by Capt. J. Frank Miller, commander of Lexington Chapter of Confederate Veterans. At the conclusion of the exercises in the church a procession was formed, composed of marchers and assistants. The Military Institute cadets and band, Lexington Fire Department, Confederate and benevolent organizations, and marched to cemetery where the graves of Confederate soldiers were decorated. Handsome designs were placed on the tombs of Generals R. E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson.

The attendance of county people upon the exercises to-day was the largest in many years.

AT WARRENTON.

Miss Mary Lee a Participant in the Observances.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WARRENTON, VA., June 2.—Memorial Day was fittingly observed here this afternoon. The exercises were held in the town hall, the speakers being introduced by Moses M. Green, a member of the Legislature. Major R. A. McIntyre read James Barron Hope's poem, "The Heroic Dead."

George Latham Fletcher, the orator of the occasion, revived the sentiments of the past in a strong and interesting address. Mr. Fletcher is a young Warrenton lawyer, singularly gifted with a command of language.

The battalion of cadets of the Bethel Military Academy were present in a body. Miss Mary Lee, daughter of General R. E. Lee, was cordially welcomed among the spectators.

JOINS THE NAVY.

Battleship Louisiana Goes Into Commission at Norfolk.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NORFOLK, VA., June 2.—The battleship Louisiana, which was built at the Newport News shipyard in contest for rapidity of construction and cost with the battleship Connecticut at the Brooklyn navy yard, went into commission this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Norfolk navy yard. Captain A. R. Couden is in command of the vessel.

After taking on stores the Louisiana will go to New York, where her six and three-inch guns will be mounted and from there she will go to New Orleans, where she will receive a silver service to be presented to the ship by the citizens of the State of Louisiana.

Gibson—Perry.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) LEESBURG, VA., June 2.—Miss Frances Louise Perry, daughter of Judge William H. Perry, of Bechtelbom, Leesburg county, Va., and Dr. John A. Gibson, a prominent physician of Leesburg, son of Mr. Henry C. Gibson, of Waterford, Loudoun county, were married at noon to-day at the bride's home by Rev. Dr. Tracy. Miss Anne Coleman Perry, the bride's sister, was maid of honor and Mr. W. C. T. Rogers, of Leesburg, was best man.

Among those attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Armistead Long, of Lynchburg, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. William F. Long, of Charlottesville, Va.; and Mrs. James H. Fraser, of Georgetown, S. C.; Misses Nannie Minor, Annie Gully, Evelyn Brydon and Margaret Pettigrew, of Richmond, Va.; Dr. George Fretlow, Messrs. Frank Samson, James H. Patterson, of Richmond, Va.; Mrs. H. C. Gibson, of Waterford, Va.; and Mr. Harry P. Gibson, of Chapel Hill, N. C. Dr. and Mrs. Gibson will reside in Leesburg.

Enlarge Coal Terminals.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NORFOLK, VA., June 2.—The Norfolk and Western Railroad has purchased 150 lots, with an aggregate water frontage of 2,600 feet, adjoining its Lambert's Point terminal. The price was $25,000. The property, it is said, will be used for an extension of the terminals. There are many small frame houses on the land.

Jones on the Stump.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) MATTHEWS, C. H., VA., June 2.—Congressman W. A. Jones addressed a fine audience here to-day, and his plea for re-nomination was strikingly convincing, and was received by the audience with unusual approval.

Matthews will undoubtedly give him a flattering majority.

Children's Day Exercises.

Children's Day exercises will be held at Ashbury Place Methodist Church this morning, commencing at 10 A. M. Immediately after the exercises a church conference will be held to appoint a committee to erect a new church. The pastor, Rev. Charles H. McGhee, will preach at 8:15 P. M.

GRAND RECEPTION TO GRADUATES

Holland Institute Gay With the Entertainments Incident to Commencement.

BONFIRE AND BOOK BURNING

The Elocution Class Present a Danish Lyric Drama—The Graduates.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) HOLLIS INSTITUTE, VA., June 2.—Friday marked the beginning of the exercises of commencement week, closing June 9th, at Hollis Institute. At night a grand reception was given to the senior class, and, in honor of the occa-

PROF. WILLIAM H. PLEASANTS, of the chair of Latin and Moral Sciences, Hollis Institute.

gion, Herr Wilmar Robert Schmidt gave a recital on the piano keyboard. The annual bonfire and burning of books and "dull care" took place at 9:30 P. M. on the campus, surrounded by a large number of lookers-on and with great enthusiasm.

Parents and alumnae are pouring in from all points of the compass. The recital by the elocution department came off this evening at half-past seven o'clock, when "King Rene's Daughter," a Danish lyrical drama, by Henrik Ibsen, was given. Later in the evening the "grave seniors" enjoyed their banquet.

The graduating class this session is composed of ten young ladies—Miss Mary Sue Dew, of Richmond, Va.; Miss Rose Satterfield, of Richmond, Va.; Miss Mary Gooch Anderson, of Clifton Forge, Va.; Miss Lollie Lee Carpenter, of Clifton Forge; Miss Mary Stuart Cooke, of Roanoke, Va.; Miss May McLaughlin, of Hollis, Va.; Miss Susie Wilson, of Arvon, Va.; Miss Frances Kingsley Ligon, of South Carolina; Miss Roy Denman, of Texas; Miss Phoebe Donnan, of Texas.

Miss Rose McGuire Satterfield is a Richmond girl, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Satterfield. Miss Satterfield has won so many honors in the three years she has been a student here that it takes time and space to number them—chairman of the student body, president of the class of 1906, president of the athletic association, president of the Capitol (Richmond) Club, member of the editorial staff of "The Spinster," Cotton Club, Delta T. B., D.-E. F., T. A. H. Light-foot, and the Euphonia Literary Society. These honors attest to her popularity and success in her student life.

As the "old girls" come back from time to time to their alma mater, one of their first visits is to the East Building to see Professor William H. Pleasants, the dean of the faculty—"Uncle Billy"—whom the students at large honor, love and revere, and of whose staff of "The Spinster," Cotton Club, Delta T. B., D.-E. F., T. A. H. Light-foot, and the Euphonia Literary Society. These honors attest to her popularity and success in her student life.

gressive, life-long work, was begun at Washington and Henry Academy, then under the supervision of James MacKenzie, a worthy successor, in the grace of teaching, to Horace's schoolmaster, Phillips, but a painstaking and excellent teacher. After a course at Richmond College, then came a period of engagement in active business life. As bookkeeper for a wealthy, foreign tobacco firm, he so commended himself to his employers that he was offered a lucrative European position.

Turning his back upon business life, he entered the University of Virginia. In 1852 he connected himself professionally with Hollis Institute, already under the presidency of Charles L. Cooke. Though a man of symmetrical culture and clear thought on all subjects, Professor Pleasants is eminently a classic scholar. During his professorship at Hollis, he has held various chairs, but is now professor of Latin and moral science. For fifty-four years, with rare and brief interruptions, he has taught Latin.

No sketch of Professor Pleasants would be complete without the mention of his warm, loyal Southern sentiment, and his Masonic connections. He is widely known and acknowledged by his brother Masons to be one of the brightest of their number. He has done the most distinguished service in that ancient and honorable order, and it has in turn gladly heaped

COULDN'T BEAR TO SEE WIFE SUFFER

William Ingram, Aged Citizen of Cold Harbor, Commits Suicide.

WIFE HAD LONG BEEN ILL

Seeing Her in Pain Broke His Heart—Took Carbolic Acid.

This news has been received here of the death by suicide of Mr. William Ingram, a well-known resident of the lower Hanover district, at Cold Harbor, who took his own life by drinking carbolic acid.

Mr. Ingram was a veteran of the Civil War, through which he served with distinction. He was seventy years of age, and is survived by his wife. He had no surviving blood relations, being the last of his stock. He was formerly a prosperous and prominent farmer on the section of the county in which he lived, and later set up in the grocery and liquor business.

The burial took place Saturday afternoon succeeding the death from the Beulah Presbyterian Church, of which he was a life-long member.

Very Sad Case.

The circumstances and causes of the suicide are peculiarly and, as he himself says, it is a source of greater gratification to believe that he is held in affectionate remembrance by the hundreds of women whose paths along the rugged road of knowledge he has tried to smooth.

On Thursday night, from 8 to 10 o'clock, a beautiful reception was given Professor Louis Albert, musical director of Hollis Institute, and his wife, by Miss Christine Isaman, of New York, pianist in her studio, of New York. Refreshments were served, and the musical decorations were very artistic. Professor Albert will sever his connection with Hollis after this session closes and will accept a position with Sullis College, Bristol, Tenn.

APPEALS FOR CLEMENCY.

Number Have Been Refused By Governor.

A number of appeals for executive clemency has been refused by Governor Swanson. The most notable of these is the case of John Axford, convicted of forgery in the Circuit Court of Patrick county and in the Corporation Court of Danville, and sentenced to three years in the penitentiary. The petition filed a number of statements as to the good character that Axford had borne in his community, saying that he had never taken a drop of liquor, never used tobacco or touched a card, never sworn an oath and that he had been diligent in his attendance upon the church, and attributing his downfall to a moment of weakness and temporary aberration. The bankers, however, regard him as a dangerous criminal, and the Governor refused to extend the clemency desired.

Other cases were Lee Jennings, sentenced December, 1905, in Circuit Court of Bedford county for horse-stealing; five years in the penitentiary. A weak mind and falling health were the grounds on which a pardon was asked.

Joseph Sala and John C. Reed, convicted in the Corporation Court of Lynchburg January, 1905, for robbery and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.

Wythe Cooper, convicted of murder August, 1901, in the county court of Floyd county and sentenced to seventeen years in the penitentiary.

Charles O'Day, convicted of murder February, 1905, in the Circuit Court of Smyth and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.

Charles Nichols, convicted of murder in the second degree in the county court of Wise March, 1901, and sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary.

Ernest Mullen, convicted of murder in the second degree in the county court of Loudoun and sentenced to eleven years in the penitentiary.

Miss Heckler's Recital.

Miss Heckler's recital, which was to have been given last Friday in Fairmount Hall, will be held at the same hall Wednesday night, June 6, at 8:30 o'clock. Those holding tickets for Friday will be entitled to the use of the same next Wednesday.

and instructive. The committee who had in charge the training of the children deserve much credit for their splendid work. The average attendance of scholars, new scholars received and number of conversions, was the largest in the history of the West View Baptist Church. The future outlook never before seemed so bright and promising as at present.

CROSSES OF HONOR.

Daughters of Confederacy Will Decorate Heroes of War.

The exercises attendant upon the bestowal of crosses of honor to Confederate veterans will take place in Lee Camp Hall to-morrow evening, at 8:30 o'clock. It is a yearly custom with the Daughters of the Confederacy to so celebrate the birthday of Jefferson Davis, which falls on June 3d. Crosses of honor will be given to twenty-seven Confederate veterans, and one descendant of a veteran. The program for the celebration is as follows:

Prayer by the Rev. Dr. J. William Jones, music by Captain Cunningham and a male quartette; reading, A Southern Symphony, by Mr. B. B. Valentine; music by Captain Cunningham; reading of rules obtaining crosses of honor, by Adjutant J. Taylor Stratton; presentation of crosses; music.

The veteran camps, Memorial Associations, Daughters of the Confederacy, Sons of Veterans, veterans of the Soldiers' Home, and the public in general are invited.

The following is the list of names: H. A. Adams, R. M. Bolling, J. B. Bruce, J. P. Branch, A. S. Baird, J. D. Burley, C. T. Corling, William Wallace Byrd, Thaddeus Ellett, H. B. Ellington, H. B. Fitzhugh, J. F. Glenn, A. E. Hancock, J. D. Lyle, J. W. McCue, H. P. Morgan, T. T. Mayo, J. E. Parrish, J. C. Robertson, B. W. Sneed, G. C. Smith, J. R. Tyree, G. W. Taylor, William Turner, George Vaughan, E. H. Warriner, Mr. Weisiger and F. E. Brooke, son of F. P. Brooke, of Company B, Fourth Virginia Regiment.

"SHANGHAIING" CASES

Captains William Marsh and Justus to Be Tried.

The United States Circuit Court will convene in Norfolk on June 6th, with Judge Waddill presiding. Judge Waddill has returned from Asheville, N. C., where he has been sitting in the session of the United States Circuit and District Courts.

Among the most important cases to come up in the Norfolk term of the court are the "shanghaiing" cases of Gallagher vs. Captain William Marsh, of the "Ethel Ruth," which involves a civil action for $10,000 damages and a criminal action by the United States, and a case of the same nature of Thomas Cunningham, Captain Justus, of the "Daniel."

These two cases will be watched with a good deal of interest, as both of them occasioned wide notoriety when they were discovered last winter. There will also be a number of civil and admiralty cases before the court.

Judge Waddill, United States Marshal Treat and other officials will leave for Norfolk on Tuesday.

Feel Right When You Feed Right.

You know one always feels very fit when the head and nerves swing along peacefully and with that certain sense of power that is unmistakable.

But when overwork or anxiety breaks down the soft gray matter in the brain and nerve cells (anxiety will do it quicker than overwork) faster than the food you have been using replaces it then to save yourself from that horror of darkness, nervous prostration, you must change food, and take on some sure rebuilders.

That's the mission of Grape-Nuts, made of selected parts of Wheat and Barley, containing the natural Phosphate of Potash which combines with albumen in the human body and makes the soft gray filling of the brain and nerve centres. In making Grape-Nuts the starchy parts of the field grains are converted into a form of sugar exactly as in the process of digestion in the body. So Grape-Nuts has really passed the first act of digestion and therefore the food is quickly assimilated in the most perfect manner by babe or athlete.

There's a Reason.
